JUSTIFICATIVA ORAL

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the integrity of the financial system and for the ability to detect and prevent fraud.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific requirements for record-keeping, including the need to maintain separate accounts for each transaction and to ensure that all records are properly indexed and filed.

3. The third part of the document discusses the importance of regular audits and reviews of the records. It states that audits are necessary to ensure that the records are accurate and complete, and to identify any potential areas of concern.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of training and education for all personnel involved in the record-keeping process. It states that personnel must be properly trained and educated to ensure that they are able to maintain accurate records and to detect and prevent fraud.

5. The fifth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining the confidentiality of the records. It states that records must be kept secure and that access to them must be restricted to authorized personnel only.

6. The sixth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining the integrity of the records. It states that records must be kept in a secure and accessible location, and that they must be protected from damage and loss.

7. The seventh part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining the accuracy of the records. It states that records must be kept up-to-date and that any changes must be properly documented.

8. The eighth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining the completeness of the records. It states that all transactions must be recorded, and that no records should be omitted or deleted.

9. The ninth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining the consistency of the records. It states that records must be kept in a consistent format, and that any changes to the format must be properly documented.

10. The tenth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining the reliability of the records. It states that records must be kept in a reliable format, and that any changes to the format must be properly documented.
